

Photographic Reproduction Policy

The Art Gallery of South Australia promotes the use of works of art in its collection for illustrative purposes in publications, advertising and merchandise.

The Gallery requires that the quality of reproductions shall meet its high standards and that the moral rights of artists and the integrity of the work be maintained. It is imperative that the appropriate acknowledgments pertaining to the Gallery and the work be correctly stated in a published caption.

Copyright requirements and the Gallery's terms and conditions must also be adhered to.

The Gallery maintains the right to charge fees associated with the reproduction of images in the collection.
