

Public Access to the Collections and Associated Information

The Art Gallery of South Australia acknowledges and encourages the right of public access to all works of art and information about works in the collection.

The Gallery undertakes this by means of:

- permanent collection displays and temporary exhibitions;
- outward loans and a travelling exhibitions program;
- providing education and public programs;
- providing access to works of art not on public display;
- publishing information about the collection;
- providing information about works in the collection through information systems and electronic communication;
- providing a service for visual reproductions of the collection;
- ensuring that access takes into account the safety and care of works of art, legal requirements and Gallery confidentiality;
- providing services, where possible, for those in the community with special needs.
