

Contemporary Collectors (CC) is a group dedicated to raising funds for the Art Gallery of South Australia (AGSA) to grow its collection of contemporary art. In doing so Contemporary Collectors assists AGSA maintain its position as one of Australia's leading art museums.

Corporate support for Contemporary Collectors offers an association with an innovative, young and dynamic group of people. CC Membership is made up primarily of professionals, executives, business owners and high profile personalities from arts and media sectors; of high net worth, and with an average age around 40. They are a sophisticated group, technology savvy, well educated, cultured and interested in art, design, architecture, travel, food & wine, and socialising. CC Members occupy a special place in the constituency of the Art Gallery of South Australia being generally younger than the traditional benefactor, and with a near equal split of men and women (compared to the normal female skew).

CC Corporate Members Program includes all the benefits of a CC membership with a focus on innovative and inspiring ways to entertain clients and staff. Through cocktail parties, dinners, exciting openings and private viewings of major exhibitions, you have the opportunity to offer your clients and valued staff unique experiences.

Your association with a cultural institution like AGSA reflects positively on your company and is a tangible way to contribute to the community.

Your organisation can become a CC Corporate Member for $3,850 per annum.
